Madeleine Dilonno is a senior at UNH in the Community Environmental Planning program; this summer she is an intern in the UNH Cooperative Extension. She was doing a pre-survey with members and will email them a more in-depth survey. The survey involved the type of training and resources that might be needed to run their meetings more efficiently and effectively. The UNH Cooperative Extension will use the data to update their NH Citizen Planner website. M. Dilonno is hoping to have a full report available at the end of summer.
